Dear Grote:

I was delighted to get your good full letter of October 19. I had started wondering how things were going with the work and whether or not you had run into difficulties or might be packing up to head back in this direction.

This concrete information really sounds as though you have had some pleasant excitement after the different variety of excitement that the laboring in swamp mud and other things provided during the set-up period.

In view of the way things have been working and the continuing acquiescence of your tame farmer, your plans certainly seem highly suitable for the coming months and should keep you busy enough. If more supplies of our particular variety are needed, please let me know.

Thanks for the reprints and the pictures. Both help considerably in providing a little better visualization of physical and electromagnetic activities down under.

The precipitation static developments and the likelihood of its relation to the Jupiter and Venus developments are extremely interesting. I'll relay the comment to Paul Scherer when we're next in touch.

Continuing best wishes, and please don't hesitate to yell if there is something we can do for you.

Sincerely yours,

Charles H. Schauer
