

Bankside,
Great Paxton,
St. Neots,
Huntingdonshire.
Oct 5th 1964.

Dr Groot Reber,
Tasmanian Regional Laboratory,
Stowell Avenue,
Hobart, Tasmania.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your request for seeds of Polygonum convolvulus and Tamus communis, published in the Council for Nature Bulletin, I have pleasure in sending a small sample of both.

I note that your quest is the direction of winding. Here, they both twine clockwise - following the sun. Are you hoping for any variation of this on the other side of the equator? The Runner Bean, after 3 centuries of cultivation in this country still seems stubbornly anti-heliox.

If at any time you have any similar requirements I will be glad to attempt their fulfillment

Yours faithfully,
L. W. Angell.