

Covington, VA
July 1960

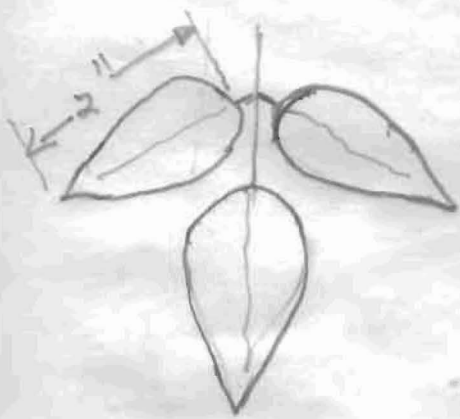

Honeysuckle terns left handed.

Morning glory. Counterclockwise, 5 stalks, purple with pitch of $2\frac{1}{2}$ " per turn. Single leaf comes off every half turn of stalk. Leaf stem 2" long, purple.

Leaf dark green with marked purple veins. Leaf slightly scrated at lower end along edge at junction of each leaf and main stalk is new subsidiary stalk starting new growth.

Unknown counterclockwise. Green stalk $\frac{1}{32}$ " dia, Pitch about 1" per turn. Every $2\frac{1}{2}$ turns a leaf stem comes off stalk. Leaf stem 2" long with cluster of three leaves,

Leaf dark green, dull with very faint white veins.

17/7/60

Unknown clockwise. Small stalk about $\frac{1}{32}$ " dia.
1 inch per turn. Stalk purple on outside, but green on inside $\frac{1}{4}$ periphery near where touches on pole.
Single leaf comes off every $2\frac{1}{2}$ turns of stalk. Stem of leaf $\frac{1}{2}$ " long light purple. Leaf is light green with very fine and faint pink to green veins

Honeysuckle. Cloakwies. Pair leaves on opposite sides stalk. Leaves oblong shape. Light green, moderate light veins. Large leaf $2\frac{1}{2}$ " long. Stalks pitch about $2\frac{1}{2}$ " per turn. Stem of leaf $\frac{1}{4}$ " long. Both, it and main stalk green on one side and purple on other. Leaf pairs come off main stalk every turn.

17 July 60

Claude St Clair Summer cottage near Covington, Va.

Unknown clockwise vine. Green stalk with six axial fine red lines. Pitch about $2\frac{1}{2}$ " per turn. Leaves are in pairs coming out opposite sides of stalk. Stem of leaf red and fuzzy about $1\frac{1}{2}$ " long. Large leaf similar to a grape with single 6" across points, at junction of stalk and stem is ^{green} spring with fuzzy green flowers. Flowers rather similar in shape and construction to open pine cone. Large flower $\frac{3}{8}$ " long and same diameter at base. Vine appears to be a perennial with strong large annual new stalks. Grows on wire fence near pump.

serrated edge on leaf.
Medium green dull color,
Medium light veins.