Dear Mr. Reber:

Thank you for your recent letter advising of your need for 6 type UX199 tubes.

This tube type has been obsolete for quite some time and is, consequently, no longer available from the RCA Electron Tube Division.

We are referring your letter to our New York Sales Office from whom you will hear further as to establishments who might still still stock this old tube type.

Your interest in RCA and its products is sincerely appreciated.

Very truly yours,
