Dear Grote,

Many thanks for your 12 August letter with the good news that your gear is on the way. We understand from Allied Van Lines in the US that the ship is still due to arrive in New York on Sept. 21. We will let you know when everything arrives in Green Bank and will take good care of it until you arrive.

You are probably right about working in Green Bank in the winter so we will expect to see you early next spring. If you give me some suggested dates and a detailed itinerary including stops we can arrange some reservations and then after your approval we can send you the ticket.

Best regards,
