Dear Mr. Simpson:

Thanks for your good letter of the 3rd and very fair price on the Infradyne amplifier. In accordance therewith I am enclosing a P.O.M.O. for sum of $11.00. Please be sure to pack carefully so that the amplifier arrives here in good condition. Sometimes the postal boys are a bit rough.

I've looked in a couple of radio catalogs for X199 tubes but these seem obsolete also as none are listed. If you can find three or more of these tubes in good operating condition I'll be happy to pay a fair price. A couple extra won't hurt to have around. I'd appreciate it if you did make some inquiry to your west coast friends about this old Rember equipment.

One of those sheets you loaned me says the Sargent Infradyne is described in "Radio" for August 1926. Perhaps you have a copy of this magazine. If so, I'd like to borrow it for a spell as I may need it to help get the amplifier working. I'll return it promptly. Thanks for your want list. I'll keep my eyes open.

Grote Reber
