VICE PRESIDENT and SECRETARY

October 6, 1964

Mr. Grote Reber
C.S.I.R.O.
Stowell Avenue
Hobart, Tasmania, Australia

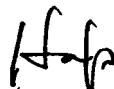

Dear Grote:

I have once more come to the sad conclusion that the prospects of my paying you a visit in the reasonably foreseeable future are nil. My earlier optimism had tied in with prospects of a Philippines trip which by some degree of distortion might have been rounded out on the return by going down under. The time scale just didn't fit and, while Sam Smith is making the Philippines trip, he also has a session in Japan which will crowd him to the limit for this journey. I am sorry indeed that one or another of us, especially I, won't be making it this year.

It sounds as though you continue to keep well occupied aside from the main stem of your work on matters philosophical, contemplative and financial. I concur with a couple of your observations about Gardner. He's really quite a guy and despite his "big" background has appealed to me frequently as one of the regrettably few voices insistently maintaining the responsibilities and capabilities of the individual.

As usual, we will be interested in hearing how the work goes, especially as you get quantitative data shaken down. I wish indeed, however, that I could pack up my Canadian Club tie and join you in a duet.

Best wishes,

Charles H. Schauer
