Dear Grote:

Thank you for your letter of last Friday. I have sent it in for Ballard to read, and have notified various persons within the Company that you wish to continue paying rent and taxes for at least another year. Among these is Ernest Halford at Wailuku, although I presume you may have already informed him of your intentions.

Ballard is at sea on an aircraft carrier today, the guest of the Navy. He will be back at his desk tomorrow.

We are sorry to lose you to the state of Virginia, but I am sure you will find the work there very interesting.

Don't forget to drop by when you come through Honolulu.

Sincerely,

Charles
