Mr. Grote Reber
P.O. Box 2
Green Bank, West Virginia

Dear Grote:

Despite your lyric prose in the letter of August 15, addressed to Miss Ewanoski, I still prefer my bush country location. Nevertheless, I still intend to get to Green Bank.

My September schedule is pretty uncertain. My present forecast would have me in the office on September 11th, the middle three days of the following week, and continuously, I believe, from then on until October 5th. There are, however, a couple of meetings which will be hitting during this latter period but which would not necessarily preempt me for all of the days on which they fall.

When I started this letter I had hoped that I could arrange for our Grants Committee meeting the 8th and 9th of October somewhere within striking distance of Green Bank. The hostelries of western Virginia and West Virginia seem to be lacking in that spirit of southern hospitality for the critical time, however, and this hope did not pan out.

I'll be looking forward to further development of your plans and the continuing prospects of our getting together. Maybe I'd better try for Macquarie Island too.

Best wishes,

Charles H. Schauer
