

1/4/65

Dear Mr. Reber:

Your letters of the 30th and enclosures arrived this morning. Mr. Schauer has been at a meeting most of the day so was able to get at his mail only in the late afternoon. Probably you will be hearing from him later.

Several things are enclosed. One is a copy of the quotation on the filters which you requested. I assume you do not need the data sheets which accompanied the quotation.

Next - the list of 1964 dividend checks received and deposited in the Harris Bank. And the total interest on your account at the Chase Manhattan Bank. The latter, incidentally, is at the main ~~br~~ bank downtown but the 422 Lexington Avenue ~~branch~~ was kind enough to get the amount and give it to me over the phone today.

And of course, the income tax blanks are enclosed. I am including the whole booklet which came for you here because there have been some changes and I don't know which might affect you, other than the tax cut.

Have not heard from the Harris Bank yet concerning the interest on your account there but will forward that as soon as it comes.

Reprints of your article (copy enclosed) have come and 20 copies were mailed to you last week, as per your request. The drawings returned by the IEEE were glossy prints. Their letter said "original drawings" and I just took their word for it. Checked today and they are your drawings but prints made by the Ohio State Photography Department.

Happy New Year!

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Jennie".