Dear Grote:

It's been a long time since I've heard from you, and it's good to know that you are still giving the "Big Bang" people a hard time. I believe one of the NASA people has swung over to your point of view. If I recall correctly, it's Robert Jastrow, but unfortunately with the move and everything, I cannot lay my hands on the pertinent reference.

As you will note from the letterhead, I have a new address. Research Corporation, under John Schaefer's leadership, has consolidated into two offices---Hal Ramsey and myself in Tucson where most of the operation now is located and two Regional Directors still operating out of the New York office. It's easy to forego Minnesota winters especially with the rugged one they are having this year. A few weeks ago I had a very pleasant lunch with Jenny in Des Moines, Iowa, and I'm sure she would send her regards. Hap Schauer will be here for the Board meeting this week, and I'll share your letter with him.

I'm also enclosing a letter from Woodruff T. Sullivan who is writing a book on the early years of radio astronomy. Unless you have some serious objections, we will probably let him have access to the proposals at least that are in your file in the hopes that he will "tell it like it was".

Best wishes to you in your Tasmanian summer, and if you get back to the United States and wish to spend some time in the desert, please come and see us.

Best regards,

Brian Andreen
