Dear Dr. Crane:

About four years ago you made for me an analysis of some carbon taken out from under a lava flow called Kamahinā near the cinder cone named Puu Mahoe. Recently I have secured some more carbon from a different flow about three miles farther up the flank of the southwest rift of Haleakala. Please advise whether or not you are still in the business of providing carbon dates, and if so what the present charge is plus some estimate of the time required and the amount of material needed.

Very truly yours,
