Dear Dr. Reber:

In accordance with our recent correspondence, you will find enclosed herewith a check in the amount of $1,500. Also enclosed is a letter appropriately notarized, affirming that the Chase National Bank has deposited in the National Bank of Australia, Ltd., at Hobart for payment to you on proper identification the sum of $3,000. I trust this will be sufficient to satisfy the Australian Counsel. Of course, we convey with this our sincere best wishes. We have confidence that the results in Tasmania will more than justify your efforts.

Hap is on vacation as I told you and will probably write you after his return, at which time he will undoubtedly forward the Hogg letter as you have requested.

Sincerely,

Alfred Kelleher
