Mystery 'Signals' From Outer Space Puzzle Britons

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP).—British scientists admitted puzzlement today over mysterious "radio signals" from space.

They can't figure out the origin of the sounds, which are being received here daily. They produce a hissing noise and are visible when passed through a cathode ray tube.

They are similar to radio emanations known to come from the stars.

But plotting of the mystery signals—continuous and unintelligible—indicates they are coming from outer space where no major stars are known to be.

Dispute Cancels Concert By Margaret Truman

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 4 (AP).—An Oct. 15 concert by Miss Margaret Truman was cancelled today as the result of a dispute between the Youngstown Symphony Society and Conductors Carmine and Michael Ficocelli.
