Dear Hay: I forgot to say a few things about the money. The first sum was sent direct to the bank. This turned out to be a bit of a tactical error due to inexperience.

Now that I've had a chance to find out how things are, I would suggest that the check be drawn to me. I will then be able to negotiate it at a marked advantage to both of us. ~~There is no risk in this process as I have been helping the CSIRO and I find ^{that} only fools deposit dollars in banks. Many other ^{bank} customers are available including the CSIRO itself!~~
